

Anthem Sam Hernando, The Rockabilly Bones

Carrying a heavy pack, following the track we are moving to your town in the hand a jar, behaving silly in the car the right foot is pushing down and the radio, plays some red hot sound while the wheels roll round and round

The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
That's right, that's right, that's right

The voice begins to sing and everybody swings while the tic tac gives the beat the twangy six strings, makes people scream and the bass man's fingers bleed hey good fellas, listen rockabellas rock'n'roll is all you need!

The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
That's right, that's right, that's right

We sing the next song, the night's still young and nobody there is gone we rock a bit here and roll a bit there while the party is goin' on so raise your glass to this rock'n'roll night cause tonight you're not alone!

The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
The Rockabilly Bones we're gonna rock tonight
That's right, that's right, that's right